

The Indiana Telephone Privacy law has provided excellent peace of mind in our home. The FCC should do nothing that jeopardizes or lessens the protection this law provides. I virtually receive less than 2 calls a month on average when in the past I received at least 2 unwanted solicitation calls a day. This law has greatly improved the sanctuary of our home life. Do not jeopardize this protection to the private citizens of Indiana.